China's Yuan Meiqing impressive on Day 2 in Subotica

The Nations Women's Cup continued with thirty-six contests in the city of Subotica, where China's AIBA Women's World Champion Yuan Meiqing demonstrated her power in her new weight class and advanced to the next stage of the tournament.

Bout of the day
Yuan Meiqing claimed the gold medal in 2011 at the first edition of the AIBA Women's Youth World Championships in Antalya, Turkey, and the Chinese star also achieved the gold medal at the 7th AIBA Women's World Boxing Championships in Qinhuangdao.

Following that success she has had some injuries, but returned to full training activity last year and decided to move down to the Olympic Middleweight class (75 kg).

Yuan met with Kazakhstan's former ASBC Asian Women's Continental Champion Dariga Shakimova in the second competition day of the Nations Women's Cup, and following her great start she won the bout of the second session.

Team of the day
England's youth team is one of the best in the world, and Ebonie Jones and Chantelle Reid both claimed gold medals at the European Union Women's Junior Championships in 2013, the EUBC European Women's Junior Continental Championships in 2014.

Jones stopped Kazakhstan's Aldana Baitabayeva in the Flyweight class (51kg), while 17-year-old Reid was too strong for Hungary's Junior National Champion Fanni Szokol at the Middleweight class (75 kg).

Their teammate Bria Fielding was also successful against Kazakhstan's Jansaya Karimova in Subotica on Day 2, and the fourth English victory was delivered by Shelly Sweeny in the Junior part of the strong competition.

Surprise of the day
Greece's Plea Fotini competed in the AIBA Junior World Boxing Championships in Albena in 2013 and proved her fighting spirit in that competition.

The 17-year-old Greek youth boxer attacked from the first seconds against India's Youth National Champion Asha Roka in Subotica and delivered the biggest surprise of the day.

One to watch
Serbia's elite women's boxers have now got experience at the international level, and their young hope, EUBC European Junior Continental Championships bronze medalist Tamara Miloradovic has competed in a high number of bouts as well in spite of her young age.

The 19-year-old Featherweight class (57 kg) boxer needed to be at her very best to control the bout against Kazakhstan's Aizhan Khodzhabekova, but in the front of her home crowd she was able to achieve an amazing performance.

Tomorrow's program
Thirty-two youth and elite contests are on the schedule of the third competition day in Subotica, where Kazakhstan's AIBA Women's World Boxing Championships Yulduz Mamatkulov will be in action.

Kazakhstan is competing in the Nations Women's Cup with a huge team, and eighteen of their boxers will be there in the two sessions of Day 3.

The third day of the Nations Women's Cup brought many great battles in Subotica, where China's National Champion Si Haljuan, Kazakhstan's AIBA Women's World Boxing Championships silver medalist Yulduz Mamatkulova, France's teenager Wassila Lkhadiri and England's 17-year-old Ebonie Jones all performed exceptionally.

Bout of the day

2014 Asian Games representative, China's Si Haljuan is an exciting Flyweight class (51 kg) talent, and had to meet with Russia's Stefani Sultanova who eliminated Kazakhstan's gold medal favourite Dina Zholaman in the first preliminary round.

This was their first ever meeting in the ring, and it showed as they were both at their technical best in a contest which uniquely displayed the science of the sport.

The key difference was the footwork of Si Haljuan, which enabled her to pick up the overall victory.

Team of the day

France's Wassila Lkhadiri joined the elite level in 2014 and she claimed a valuable bronze medal at the EUBC European Women's Continental Championships in Bucharest, Romania before her 19th birthday.

The talented Flyweight class (51 kg) boxer controlled her bout against Bulgaria's AIBA Women's Youth World Champion Venelina Poptoleva and won all the rounds 10:9.

France's second elite triumph was achieved by Delphine Mancini who has been a member of the national team since 2005, with the veteran Bantamweight (54 kg) boxer at a different level than her first rival in Subotica, Greece's Alkaterini Koutsougeorgopoulou and she advanced to the semi-finals following her triumph by unanimous decision.

Surprise of the day

Croatia's Jovana Vuco has been fighting at the international level since 2010, but she was not the favourite against Kazakhstan's Gaukhar Yermekbay who won the gold medal at the AIBA Women's Youth World Championships in Albena in 2013.

Vuco caused the biggest surprise of the day beating her Central Asian Welterweight class (69 kg) rival in Subotica.

Ones to watch

England's Stacey Copeland won a silver medal at the EUBC European Women's Continental Championships in Bucharest last June, and the Welterweight class (69 kg) veteran boxer did not give any chances to Serbia's EUBC European Women's Continental Championships competitor Aleksandra Stojanovic, where following her strong punches the Kazakh referee stopped their unequal contest.

Her youth teammate, EUBC European Women's Junior Continental Champion Ebonie Jones won a great fight against Greece's Plea Fotelini, while Kazakhstan's AIBA Women's World Boxing Championships silver medalist Yulduz Mamatkulova also had a strong result on Day 3 by eliminating Ukraine's Kateryna Lanko at the Light Heavyweight class (81 kg).

Stat/Fact of the day

The tiny Caribbean Island of Dominica sent only one boxer, the Commonwealth Games quarter-finalist UK-based Valerian Spicer to the Nations Women's Cup which is their first ever appearance in the history of the event.

In spite of her low number of international bouts she has defeated already two opponents in Subotica and advances to the semi-finals.

Tomorrow's program

The semi-finals will be held on the fourth competition day in the Nations Women's Cup where Russia's London 2012 Olympics silver medalist Nadezhda Torlopova will open her competition in Serbia, with the Middleweight class (75 kg) boxer returning to the sport after a long break, and many boxing experts are curious to see her current form.

The Nations Women's Cup recap and results

Kazakhstan's Nazym Ishchanova [R]

The Nations Women's Cup recently finished in the Northern area of Serbia in Subotica, where Kazakhstan achieved eight gold medals in the youth and elite level.

Bout of the day
China's Yuan Meiqing claimed a gold medal at the 2011 AIBA Women's Youth World Championships in Antalya, Turkey and following that she reached the top of the podium at the elite level in Qinhuangdao one year later.

Since then, she has moved down to the Olympic Middleweight class (75 kg) and returned to the world of boxing last year after hand injuries.

She lost to Russia's Nadezhda Torlopova in the World Cup of the Petroleum Countries last month, but had a chance to strike back her previous loss very quickly in Subotica.

Meiqing advanced to the final in Serbia where she had to meet Nadezhda Torlopova once again, with her veteran Russian opponent the gold medallist at the 2010 AIBA Women's World Championships and a silver winner at the London 2012 Olympic Games.

In their rematch, the Chinese boxer began their bout with more effective punches but Torlopova reduced the fighting distance and improved during their world class battle.

However, the 22-year-old Yuan had more energy than Torlopova in the final round, and secured China's lone gold medal in the tournament.

Team of the day
Kazakhstan achieved great things on the final competition day, despite the absence of their two best women's boxers, newly crowned AIBA Women's World Champion Nazym Kyzaybay and Lazzat Kungeybayeva.

Five of their youth athletes such as Aigerim Oshakbay (57 kg), Nazym Ishchanova (60 kg), Aida Abikeyeva (64 kg), Bayan Akbayeva (69 kg) and Aida Ondash (81 kg) all claimed gold medals which will give them all much confidence before the AIBA Women's Youth & Junior World Championships.

Three of their elite athletes also won their weight classes in Subotica, as firstly Asian Games silver medallist Zhaina Shekerbekova defeated Germany's Sarah Bormann at Flyweight (51 kg).

National Champion Zarina Tsoloyeva was too strong for all of her rivals at the Light Welterweight class (64 kg), while AIBA Women's World Championships silver medallist Yulduz Mamatkulova defeated her teammate Akerke Bakhytzhani in the final of the Light Heavyweight class (81 kg).

Surprise of the day

China's National Champion and Incheon 2014 Asian Games quarter-finalist Si Haijuan was the top favourite of the Elite Bantamweight class (54 kg) in Subotica, but following three successes the Asian boxer was defeated by French veteran Delphine Mancini.

Ones to watch

Ukraine's Valeria Manchak claimed the gold medal at the 2014 EUBC European Youth Continental Championships in Assisi, and since was only born in 1997, she is eligible to compete at the youth level in 2015 as well.

The top youth athlete defeated India's Pravish Chanu in the gold medal contest at Bantamweight (54 kg), and following the decision of the boxing experts she received the best youth boxer trophy in Subotica.

England's Stacey Copeland claimed a silver medal at the 2014 EUBC European Women's Continental Championships in Bucharest in spite of the fact she joined the national squad only in 2013, and the English Welterweight class (69 kg) boxer won the best elite boxer trophy in the Nations Women's Cup where she stopped three strong rivals: Serbia's Aleksandra Stojanovic, Kazakhstan's Zura Khusainova and Russia's Elmira Azizova.

Stat/Fact of the final day

Kazakhstan won eight gold medals in the final competition day and topped the team rankings in the Nations Women's Cup.

The Russians were also excellent at the elite level, while India achieved a great performance in the junior competition.
